

What is Engineers Without Borders (EWB)?

EWB is not your average trade organization. We are an action oriented group dedicated to the successful completion of our projects. Don't be fooled by the name. We are made up of all kinds of professions from engineers to nurses, to urban planners, to educators, to construction professionals. We're sure there is a way you can get involved and help. Hope to see you soon!

Vision

A world in which the communities we serve have the capacity to sustainably meet their basic human needs, and that our members have enriched global perspectives through the innovative professional educational opportunities that the EWB-USA program provides.

Mission

EWB-USA supports community-driven development programs worldwide by collaborating with local partners to design and implement sustainable engineering projects, while creating transformative experiences and responsible leaders.
